holy, Holy, The Holy One: The human journey to Wholeness

*This year in his film series, theologian, film scholar, and Associate Pastor of St. Monica's Parish, Fr. Lloyd Baugh, S.J. looks at films that consider how God, The Holy One, YHWH and the deities of Buddhism, invite their believers to risk undertaking the wonderful and mysterious journey towards the holiness which is wholeness.*

Three Colors: Red

Directed by: Krzysztof Kieslowski
Switzerland, 1994 - French with English subtitles

A beautiful model named Valentine crosses paths with a man, whose beautiful golden retriever she hits with her car. She nurses the dog back to health and returns it to its owner, a retired judge, who tells her she can keep it. He is beyond worrying about dogs. He occupies his days intercepting the telephone calls of his neighbors, and he watches them through his windows almost like God - actually, just like God - curious, since they have free will, what they will do next? After a lifetime of passing verdicts, he wants to be a detached observer.

Near Valentine's apartment lives a young man who aspires to be a judge and loves a woman who will betray him. From these characters' proximity comes spiritual kinship and mutual redemption.
